Obituary.

Just as the king of day was sinking to its golden bed in the west, on the evening of September 28th, 1905, many a tear of sorrow was shed by relatives and friends, when the dark angel of death entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Wheeler and took from them little Mina, the idol of their hearts. Mina was two years and five days old, and was a bright and winsome little girl whom every body loved, and though the sun shines around the lonely little grave today, the little form resting so sweetly there is not forgotten. The bright angels above are lapsing praise to Him who said, "Suffer little children to come unto me, for it is the kingdom of Heaven." And with her sweet baby hand is beckoning father and mother to come on and share with her the eternal joys of that bright world. The little darling is not dead but lives with Him who said: "I am the Resurrection and the Life." So live that you may meet your sweet little darling and with her sweet baby form clasped to your bosom, rest throughout eternity.
HATTIE GILPIN.

Singing at the Court House.

The people of Columbia have secured the services of Profs. Sam and W. E. Stapp to conduct a singing at the Court house in this city next Sunday, October 22. The services will last throughout the day and the people are requested to bring well-filled baskets.

The Columbia Laundry, under the management of Hurt Bros. & Shreve will deliver its first work this week. Plant was put in operation Monday morning and up to this hour every thing is working nicely, and first class work is promised on the part. Such an enterprise is valuable to Columbia and we trust the people will not overlook the importance of supporting this industry.

Owing to the inclemency of the weather, the singing at Union last Sunday was not very largely attended in the forenoon; however, the good people of the immediate neighborhood were there with plenty of dinner for those present. A good crowd gathered in the afternoon and was delightfully entertained for two or three hours with the excellent singing by Prof. Stapp and class assisted by the Union choir.

All Hallowe'en Night.

Miss Trabue's Art Class will welcome everybody at Willow Glen Hallowe'en night, October 31. The spooks with their mystic rites will rule the hours.
The Art Class will serve refreshments at 25 cents each. The money will be used to buy plaster casts for the studios in our two colleges.

Above we present the picture of Mr. James Garnett, of this city, now Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Kentucky Masons. For several years Mr. Garnett has taken an active part in Masonry serving in every responsible position from the Blue Lodge to the high and exalted position he now occupies, and in truth, we can say that he has filled every position with credit to himself and honor to the Fraternity. The Masons in this part of the State feel proud of the esteem and confidence manifested in our townsmen, and knowing him as we do, as a man of ability and a Mason of broad knowledge; we feel that the responsibilities of Grand Master could not have been better placed. Congratulations to Mr. Garnett and to the Grand Lodge that made this wise selection.

Mrs. Annie E. Murrell and Mrs. Biah J. Murrell, of Cane Valley, visited in Columbia Tuesday.

In a few more days we hope to have the News plant better adjusted. A four horse gasoline engine, just from the factory, now gives ample power to run all our presses at the same time. If business demands it, and our press room is being enlarged to almost double its former capacity; heretofore, we have been cramped for room and power which has put the office rather on the slow order in filling its orders for job work, but it will be different in a few days, and if you need a good job, a quick job, send in your order and see with what a suddenness we will furnish the goods.

October.

If there is one month which surpasses all the others in its gifts of natural beauty it is October. May has its devotees, for May brings nature back to life, clothes the trees with their raiment of green and awakens the flowers for a season; but with all its freshness and fragrance May does not stir the blood as does October. Stroll into the woods and see for yourself. For the next four or five weeks there will be spiced in the air, a tonic in the breeze and color everywhere. Gaze from some eminence across the land and observe the purple haze that drapes the hills, look at the gorgeous radiance of the sunset, revel in the masses of purple and gold and bronze and crimson that deck the trees. The country resident has the spectacle all about him; the city dweller can catch the magic of it in the great parks at the very edge of town. He cannot resist the scene—he cannot scorn the slummock and the dogwood and the maple and the sweet gum. He cannot turn a deaf ear to the music of rinding water that courses through the dinging ferns, carrying fallen leaves upon its bosom. There may be melancholy in the picture but it is the real beauty. It is a sadness that stimulates, it is not the sadness of despair.

In a short while winter will be here, but first comes this wonderful month of October whose hours should be spent in the lanes and forests. It offers the imagination ample compensation for the chill desolateness that follows. Do not stay indoors while such glory is beckoning without. Remember it will soon be gone.

3c per pound.

Dr. Hammond has a cow which two months ago, dropped a premature calf. Last week she gave birth to another large, well developed heifer calf. Cow and calf both doing well.

The frost, last week, extended as far south as Middle Mississippi and doubtless the people of that country were glad of it as yellow fever passes out with such temperature.

At Mr. W. L. Farris' sale last Friday, property sold as follows: one calf $13.50, one cow $17, one horse $43, sow and shoats $37, oats 36 cents per bushel, corn sold privately at $1.25 per barrel. Household and kitchen furniture sold low.

Two head of cattle—a brindle steer, weight, about 900 pounds, and a roan cow, weight, about 800 both dehorned. Lost on Columbia & Burkesville road. Will give $1 each for locating them.
R. K. Young, Columbia.

Public Sale.

On Saturday, October 23, at my home, 2 miles east of Columbia, I will offer for sale to the highest bidder, one pair of mules, 3 mares, 1 horse, 2 Jersey heifers, farming implements, wagon, harness, etc. Also growing crop of corn.
W. H. GILL.

C. M. Herriford bought of N. T. Mercer 12 head of hogs at 4c; 3 heifers from S. T. Hughes at 2c; 1 cow and 2 calves from C. C. Henson for $30 and 1 gray horse from same party for $120. Mr. Herriford sold Allen Walker, 1 black horse for $110; to Chas. Williams 4 yearlings at 41c and to C. C. Henson 3 heifers at 21c.

Stock reports Tuesday's Evening Times: Medium to good butcher cattle, $3.00 to $3.50; common to medium butchers, $2.50 to $3; common to medium stock steers, $2 to $2.50; common to medium stock heifers, $1.75 to $2.25; choice packing and butchering hogs, 200 to 200 pounds $5.40; medium packers, 160 to 200 pounds, $5.35; choice light shippers, 120 to 160 pounds, $5.20; Roughs $4.25 to $4.60.

SECOND ELOPEMENT.

It will be remembered that two or three weeks ago Mr. Joseph Thomas, of Pellyton, and Miss Ethel Rubarts, of Eunice, made an attempt to elope to Indiana to get married, but were arrested in Louisville and the young lady brought home by her father, Mr. G. W. Rubarts, Jr. On Monday morning the young people again succeeded in escaping the vigilance of the young lady's parents and up to the time of going to press their whereabouts cannot be ascertained, but it is supposed that Tennessee was their destination and ere this they are happily married.

Our delay of a day this week was caused by losing time in the installation of a new engine and changing shafts, belts and other things. Hereafter we hope to come out on time full fledged and running over.

The combination lock boxes for the Columbia post office was received a day or so ago by Mr. James Russell, our post master. These will be placed in position at an early day. Just the thing this office has needed for several years.

Woods are full of 'em—again, relate.

Land, Stock and Crops.

Turnips are unusually large and fine.

Ray Flowers sold a hog to Chas. Herriford for $10.

Two hundred unbroken mules changed hands at the Harrodsburg court.

The frost has settled all fears of fly in young wheat and sowing is full bloom.

Trading in land and stock has been unusually dull in this vicinity for several days.

Its all here now, making sorghum, sowing wheat, getting wood and cribbing corn.

Mr. R. E. Tandy purchased 58 acres of land near Bliss from W. G. Turner for $550.

Flowers Bros. bought of John Harris a four-months-old hog. This pig is a descendent of the Vanderbilts Biltmore strain.

The price of cattle may advance or decline, but such changes never affect good steak. It is always high in a country town.

Hughes & Coffey bought five head of cattle a few days ago for $85.00. They also bought a mule colt from Sam Mitchell for $47.

Smith & Nell, of Gradyville, sold to D. Davidson, of Marrowbone, last week an extra nice bunch of two-year old steers at Hogwallow Gossip.

While a game of seven-up was being indulged in over by the straw stack Sunday morning, a fight took place between Ellick Hellwanger and Sidney Hooks. Several panels of rail fence were knocked down. The deputy constable was summoned and arrested them for disturbing the peace and quietude of a game of chance. Silkie Kildew has wrote several of his friends to be present at a hawgs killing to take place in a few days at his house. Raz Barlow Excelsior Band will be present and after helping attend to the hawgs, will supply music for a dance which will be one of the social features of the occasion.

The assistant coroner and deputy constable are engaged this week in looking for the fellow that turned loose a bottle of fleas while the Hog Ford preacher was preaching last Sunday.

Yams Sims wore a pair of high-water pants to preaching last Sunday and has since been laid up with a bad cold.

The ticks are getting to be very bad.

The postmaster, accompanied by Frisby Hancock was horrified when they come down to the post office yesterday morning to feed the hawgs and found that the post office building had moved during the night to the opposite side of the road. It is now believed some practical joker done it to fool the p. m.

Salem Barlow took a shot at Bat Smith Sunday morning early.

He hit him but missed breakfast.

Miss Fruzie Allsop has broken her engagement to wed Richard Henstep. It is rumored that she was only marrying Richard for his money, but he spent it Saturday night, and Madam Rumor announces that Miss Fruzie backed out. Richard was so disappointed he had a chill.

Film Dillard, who has been trying to go with Miss Agnesia Flinders so long that he has wore out two pair of shoes, has succumbed to her desire and turned his matrimonial intention in another direction.

Our esteemed friend, Fit Smith, stepped through a hole in the floor at the Dog Hill church last Sunday while going over after a drink of water and broke a pair of new eye goggles. The preacher will have to make good for it.

Sidney Hooks made a flying trip to Rye Straw Saturday evening. He went after a jug of molasses and a pair of socks.

While preaching was in progress at the Hog Ford church last Sunday a lizard got on Fit Smith and broke up the meeting.—Hogwallow Kentuckian.

Clouted Death.

Kidney trouble often ends fatally, but by choosing the right medicine, E. H. Wolfe of Bear Grove, Iowa, chases it dead. He says: "Two years ago I had Kidney Trouble" which caused me great pain, suffering and anxiety, but Electric Bitters, which effected a complete cure. I have also found them of great benefit in general debility and nerve trouble, and keep them constantly on hand, since as I find they have no equal." T. E. Paull, druggist, guarantees them at 50c.

Give Praise to the Wife.

It is often noticed that some men are scrupulously polite and courteous to every other woman but are rude, insolent and overbearing to their own wives. This is a great mystery to the spectator. Then another class of men, often good men, too, think it a sign of weakness—or at least a waste of time, to speak words of kindly appreciation to the often overworked wife. The man of this description is usually a self-sufficient person, but there are many who without meaning any unkindness take all things for granted.

The wife of an unappreciative man is a woman whom no old maid should envy, for her loving toil seems all in vain. A wife's one redress is to master her husband, and it is never pleasant to any true-hearted woman to feel that she has to master her husband in order to live comfortably with him. The man who never praises his wife will find fault with everything on every possible occasion. It is the easiest thing in the world to find fault—easier than the proverbial sliding down hill. It gets to be a habit with some men, and they are hardly conscious when they are exercising it.

Why cannot a man show his wife that he appreciates her efforts to please him? Why cannot he praise the pudding of his wife as well as the cooking of his neighbor, Mrs. Jones? Why cannot he speak kindly of her mince pie, etc. Kind words make his wife happy, and no decent man ought to withhold them.

Life is Embittered.

Life is too often embittered by the grievous pains and suffering caused by dyspepsia in one or another of its many forms. No other disease covers such a wide range of symptoms, or causes such varied suffering to its victims. Stomach ache, headache, dizziness, nausea, biliousness, constipation, fever, etc.,—all are due to this one dreadful disease. No wonder that thousands are so enthusiastic over the cure of their disease, by Dr. Caldwell's (laxative) Syrup Pepsin. It is a most potent, marvelous and universal cure. Try it. Sold by J. N. Page, of Columbia, and R. B. Wilson, Cane Valley, at 50c and $1.00. Money back if it fails.

GRAYEL SMITH.

The Rev. Jones has just closed a series of meetings at Sycamore with eleven additions to the church.

J. V. Johnson bought in Casey, Marion last week a bunch of mule colts at $45 to $90.

It is now time to put aside airships.

Prof. Claud Hatter visited at Middleburg a few days ago.

Mrs. Florence Johnson is ill with malarial fever.

Rev. O. Z. Avery has closed a successful meeting at Kedron Chapel.

The crops of Marion are exceeding all past ones. The corn crop is up to the expectation of the most sanguine; tobacco is eminently fine, producing a 96 per cent. crop; fruit is reported falling off considerably.

Mrs. J. Sinkhorn, who has been seriously ill for several months with consumption, is no better.

The writer, who has been your reporter at Middleburg, is now a pedagogue and also pushing the pencil for the Rural and Metropolitan press during his spare moments. As to my location, I am now at Little South Fork, Casey county, the above town being my post office. Our mail is delivered to us daily by the R. F. D., carrier, who serves about 150 families and 900 people.

Messrs. Dave and H. Sinkhorn, of Illinois, are visiting friends and relatives here.

It is announced that Russia will have her new navy built in England. Perhaps, the Czar doesn't want it built far from home for fear the Japs will sink them on the way over.

Mrs. J. Hoxley, an aged resident of this community, fell a few days ago and broke her arm for the third time. She has also had bad bow lower limbs, collar bone, shoulder, wrist and pelvis broken. Her recovery is doubtful.

A Dardevil Rule

Often ends in a sad accident. To heal accidental injuries, use Buchen's Arnica salve. "A deep wound in my foot, from an accident," writes Theodore Schuele of Columbus, O., caused me great pain. Physicians were helpless, but Buchen's Arnica Salve quickly healed it." Soothes and heals burns like magic. 25c at T. E. Paull's, druggist.

Frightful Suffering Relieved.

Suffering frightfully from the violent poison of indigestible food, C. C. Grayson, of Lula, Miss., took Dr. King's New Life Pills, "with the result," he writes, "that I was cured." Husband and Wife.

Of course every husband and wife know their duty towards each other, but still they grow a little negligent sometimes and very often a few words will cause them to be more thoughtful and press them to their duty again.

They should always try to be agreeable, and, if one should become a little cross over some little thing that has not gone just as wished, let the other be smiling and cheerful. Never both be angry at the same time.

Wife, when the husband comes in from his work tired, always meet him with a smile, have the house neat and tidy, everything in its place, have his meals on time and something he may wish to eat, for work gives a man an appetite, and they do not like to come in and wait for a meal when they are hungry.

Husband if you come in and find things different from the way you would have them to be, do not become cross and snap around about everything, and if you should be so cruel as to do such a thing, when you overcome your passion go to the dearest of all things (the wife) and confess you have done wrong. By so doing you will heal the wound that was so painful to her.

Man should not expect too much of the wife. He must remember, she is too frail a being to battle with all the hardships of this world. There are many ways in which the husband may be of help to the wife, and we think he should try to help in all ways we think the wife should help the husband in any way her health will allow, trying to grant all his wishes. Some of them may seem unreasonable at first, but we know the wishes of a true devoted husband will prove for the best.

ELIEX, NEW MEXICO.

Editor of the News—

We came to New Mexico four weeks ago, and are very much pleased with the climate and country in general.

The surface is mostly level, the soil being from 3 to 8 feet deep. Good water can be found from 80 to 120 feet.

We took claims in a few days after we arrived, put up a house, and are now living in it. We found water at the depth of 96 feet.

People are raising all kinds of small grain such as corn, wheat, oats, red and white kafir corn, cane, milo maize, broom corn and so on. It is thought by most of the people that this will be a fine country for cotton raising.

The mild climate and abundance of pasture make the raising of horses, cattle, hogs, also poultry of all kinds easy, cheap and successful. It is said with these advantages stock can be raised here for about one third less cost than in any other section of the country.

Timber is quite scarce in this part of the country. We have plenty of black cedar and makuet out on the cliffs, about fifteen miles from here, principally used as posts. People are planting quite a lot of black locusts to be used for posts in the future. They are also planting many kinds of fruit trees. It is believed that no section is better adapted to the growth of water melons and canteloupes, which often weigh from 40 to 75 pounds, and it is a very common thing to buy a melon weighing 40 or 50 pounds for ten cents, and they have as fine flavor as those grown in the best melon sections. Irish and sweet potatoes, and in fact all kinds of vegetables do well here.

We are blessed with plenty of game, as follows: Jack rabbit, cotton tail, antelope, wolf, Coyote, parairie chicken, wild geese, ducks and plenty of rattlesnakes.

People are giving much attention to the raising of fine cattle just at present. Good milk cows sell from $30 to $50. Horses are very cheap, and a good pair of mules will sell for $250. Hogs are scarce, making them very high, and good flour is worth $2.75, and corn $1.75 per hundred.

The Pecos valley and northeastern railroad run through the hustling little city of Elida, making it quite handy for us Kentuckians. Elida is a thriving little village having three stores, one saloon, one grain store, one church and school house, two blacksmith shops, post office, and lumber yard. There are good schools and churches supplied with first-class teachers and preachers. The length of the free school term is five months, and teachers' salaries range from $50 to $75 per month.

The people are as moral, social, refined and hospitable also progressive, as can be found any where.

I guess this will do for this time.

CLARK & FANSON, Campbellville, Ky. Dec. 28, 1905.

The Farmer of To-day.

It is evident to all who have carefully observed the modern progress in all lines of activity, that the farmer sooner or later in his work realizes that improvement and greater intelligence concerning his work are to be sought for here as in everything else. To day the facilities for transportation make it possible to lay down farm products grown at a great distance from the market at greatly reduced prices. The farmer of to-day, that he may successfully compete with his more distant neighbor, must exercise care in planning his work, in raising his crops and in the marketing of them.—Cor., in Farmers' Sentinel.

He knows fully well that a better quality and a larger quantity of a product, such as he can raise on his farm, will insure for him better financial returns. He realizes that improved machinery and the use of varied farm implements farming on a keener, higher competitive basis than it ever did before. He also realizes that technical training and skill based on scientific principles are absolutely essential for success in competitive fields.

Every up-to-date farmer knows or needs to know the actual condition and standing of his methods of farming at every season of the year. Such a farmer keeps a tangible system of farm bookkeeping. He is in a position to know whether the production of a crop or the raising of stock is costing him more than it brings in return to him. Should there be loss he ought to understand what modifications are necessary for him to make in order that such leakage may be stopped. He ought to read and to understand and grasp with a certain degree of intelligence the essence of farm subjects treated in agricultural books, bulletins, papers, and other literature so extensively published by agricultural institutions and experiment stations.

The pressing demand of the times make it possible for him to familiarize himself with some principles of economy in so far as they may affect him personally in the application of them to dealings pertaining to his work.

But these are not all the essentials that to a large degree make the life of a farmer comfortable. The farmer should no less have a reasonable amount of knowledge of State and local affairs and such as may affect him in securing necessary legislation, to form correct judgment, cast an intelligent vote and be a useful citizen. It seems that the farmer should be so equipped as to earn a sufficiency of those things which are necessary for comfortable living. The past has achieved for the farmer that which was possible under his own conditions. The present conditions will largely shape the possibilities for better and more remunerative farming in the future.

The Boy with Patches.

What has become of the boy with patches?

Why, bless your soul, he is out on the farm hopping cloids sixteen hours a day. He will come down after while to run the boy and stores and be the successful lawyer, preacher and physician. Don't worry about the boy with patches. It's the sick-looking store-clothed, nicely groomed fellow that's going to come through the crack in the side and out of sight one of these days.—Ex.

Remember that if you well as you can you that you ought to do.

Kentucky's quarantine against all points has been lifted.

The cool weather has greatly improved the yellow fever situation at New Orleans and other points.

Although a strong attempt has been made to displace J. H. Tinsley, of Barbourville, District Attorney for Eastern Division of Kentucky, the President, judging from the reports sent out from Washington, will reappoint him.

An important decision has been rendered by the Court of Appeals. It is this: The court in construing the duties of a guardian, held that they were as broad as a parent's and that there was nothing in the statutes requiring that the annual expense of the ward be held within the annual income.

The election is approaching and throughout the State, in every county and in nearly every precinct, the voters have been reminded of the uncertainties of the returns under the secret ballot system. Dissatisfaction has arisen over all the State. A few weeks ago we published a speech delivered by Hon. J. F. Montgomery, of this place, setting forth why it was better to stick to the viva voce way of voting. We hope that the voters of Adair and adjoining counties will agree with Mr. Montgomery and vote for the amendment going back to the days of honesty.

Mr. G. W. Albrecht, one of the editors of the Middlesboro News, visited Frankfort last week and had a conference with Gov. Beekham with a view of bringing about a better state of affairs in Bell county. He stated that Ball, the late Jack Bolen, the late streets up-lest. That the Law and Order League was powerless, as Ball could bring twenty-five lawless men to his assistance at any moment. He further stated that Bell county equaled Jackson and Breathitt in crime and unless something was done at once many good citizens, in his opinion would lose their lives. There is just one thing for the juries of Bell county to do, and that is, order a few neck tie entertainments. As long as good people of a community will let toughs run rough shod over them, just so long will the devilment continue.

Notwithstanding the yellow journals of the city are continuously running down Louisville, she is steadily and surely growing. Take a ride over the city and you will see enterprise on every hand. Dwellings, handsome and costly ones, are going up and the whole city is in a push. It is gratifying to the smaller towns in the State to know that the metropolis of the Commonwealth is fast forging to the front and ere long its population will number 300,000. Under the leadership of Paul Barth, who will be elected Mayor at the November election, still greater strides will be made. All honor to good government; all honor to the Democrats who are standing by the organization.

W. K. Azbill, Wm. F. Jeffries, H. T. Baker and Rollin Browning attended the State Development Convention in Louisville last week. They report a large attendance and enthusiastic gathering—a decided improvement on the good convention held two years ago. A great deal of valuable information was imparted to the delegates by specialists who had been invited to address the convention, on the latest resources of Kentucky, on problems in relation to emigration, timber preservation, taxation of capital, Interurban Railway developments, the growing of alfalfa and of corn, and on many other matters. The impression of those who attended the great meeting is, that a booming tide of interest in the development of the resources of the State is rising which is sure to sweep over the whole country with a force of up-lift of all our industries and commerce never before witnessed in Kentucky. "The new spirit of Kentucky" was a phrase frequently used in the Convention, and the men who were in attendance—representing every line of useful activity in the State—were filled with this new spirit of enterprise in Kentucky by Kentuckians for the sake of "our old Kentucky Home."

The assassination of Jark Bolen, a peaceful citizen, of Middlesboro, a few days ago, reveals the fact that the better element of that city and vicinity has been living in fears and that this crime is so revolting as to arouse and unite all the lovers of law and order in that part of the country. The slayer of Mr. Bolen is a member of one of the strong families in the government of that city and whose record has many dark spots, the majority of them being engaged in the sale of liquor and conducting the business on a low order. The Bolls are men of wealth and their power over that section is no small matter to combat. The criminal history of Middlesboro, if given to the world in truth and fullness, would record so many foul and bloody deeds as to prove a serious obstruction to the business development of that part of the State and fill every true Kentuckian with shame and regret. Crimes, like all other things and events, have their limits and we trust that the day for giving a strict account account for lawlessness in that part of the state has come. The Law and Order League, of that city, numbering over two hundred, as a great power for good, but it has a powerful task to perform. Its work is not only beset with dangers, but, of necessity, must be long and continuous. It has come to us that the Ball family has almost had their own way—that their desperateness has been dreaded and through fear of the good people of Middlesboro have patiently endured until Bolen was shot down in cold blood. That crime has aroused them and united effort for the right will finally succeed. A few bad men can ruin any section and a few such sections can destroy or seriously impair the good name and prosperity of a State. Kentucky ought to use more rope, and put fewer in prison for the murder of man. The prison does not have the terrors of death, it does not protect society as it should from the cold blooded murderer. Too much latitude is allowed the juries in the exercise of sympathy. If the next Legislature will revise the law and take the option from the juries in murder cases of giving life sentences for murder, there will be more justice meted out and fewer crimes committed. The law should fix the punishment and the jury determine the degree of crime. A life sentence is not equal to death and no legislature or jury or any other power can make it so. When the law, the Legislature, takes the responsibility of hanging murderers and only asks the jury to determine the degree of crime then our commonwealth will enter a new era in the supervision of crimes.

IRVIN'S STORE.

We have had a good rain which is fine for wheat. It is now cool enough to kill grasshoppers which have eat lots of wheat.

B. J. Figg, insurance man of Burgin, was here this week writing policies for the Equitable.

Dr. J. F. Tarter, of Decatur, was here Wednesday.

Dry Jeffers & Son were down last week and bought a bunch of fat cattle.

Uncle Levi Butcher is visiting his brother in Tennessee.

J. H. Smith, Fonthill, is on the sick list. Everybody in wondering how he took time to get sick.

The Democrats have nominated H. L. Wade, of Irvin's Store, for Magistrate, and Fed Austin for Constable.

Dr. L. D. Hamond is having a new portico erected.

Talton Bradshaw will soon move to his farm. As he must change precincts, however, he will vote before he moves.

V. G. Rexroat, our excellent blacksmith, is doing more work than ever before.

Alkandidates, who have opposition, have been here pretending to be everybody's friend and wanting everybody to be their friend.

School trustees were elected Saturday. As the teacher they must select exercises such a great influence over our children, they should be careful to obtain one with moral as well as literal qualifications, who can govern with mild but firm discipline. Two much favoritism is shown in this as well as other public affairs.

LOCAL NEWS.

Considerable frost here last Thursday morning.

Do not fail to hear Dr. E. L. Powell at the Presbyterian church, Thursday night, November 2.

W. L. Farris, a native of this county, will remove to Campbellsville. He is an excellent citizen.

A match game of basket ball will be played at the Lindsay-Wilson grounds. See the names of the players elsewhere in this paper.

Mrs. J. H. Kinniard has been very successful in growing lemons. She sent one to this office that weighed one pound and was handsomely shaped.

The drillers are getting along very slowly at the Powell well, the rock being very hard. Dr. Russell is very hopeful of making a good strike at this point.

My house and lot adjoining fair ground. Good water.

The company that bought the J. S. Pope land several months ago, have purchased several other tracts adjacent thereto, and are now cutting the timber and hauling it to Campbellsville.

The meeting at the Christian church is well attended at the night services. Eld. J. H. Montgomery is one of the strong preachers of this denomination, and he is quite popular here, Adair being his native county.

Mr. John Eubank was nominated for magistrate in the two Columbia districts last Saturday. He is the oldest magistrate on the bench, having served the people continuously for twenty years. His election is assured.

The report that Mr. W. E. Young had eloped to Tennessee with a young lady of this county, last week, is false, so we are informed by Mr. Stapp. There was no intention on the part of either and no consequence no effort made to this end.

Mrs. Henry N. Miller, this city, has a lemon bush to which she has given much attention and one day last week pulled a lemon that weighed over a pound. There are several others hanging to its small boughs, which gives it a novel appearance.

Millinery Display.

I have just returned from the market with a beautiful line of Fall and winter millinery, which will be on display Friday. All the ladies of Adair and adjoining counties are invited to call.

MRS. S. C. STRANGE.

The Methodist people of Glasgow are to be congratulated upon securing for their preacher, this year, Rev. G. P. Dillon. He is a talented young man, a God fearing man, and makes some pretensions to oratory. Socially, he is a most excellent gentleman. We predict that the church at Glasgow will largely increase its membership under the preaching of Bro. Dillon.

It is said that there are several moonshine stilleries in operation in this county. They should be broken up, but the officers are powerless unless warrants are sworn out. The illegal manufacturer and sale of ardent spirits can be stopped if the good citizens will aid the officers. Swear out warrants, place them in the hands of the officials, and the birds are soon caged.

Valuable Resident Property for Sale.

We offer our entire resident property for sale at inviting prices and reasonable terms, consisting of two dwellings with eight or nine acres of ground on Burksville street, a good dwelling with over an acre of ground in vicinity of M. and F. High school, known as the Taylor property. Also an organ and piano, both first class condition. Call on or address L. V. Hall or Mrs. L. T. Powell, Columbia, Ky.

An Exchange publishes the following sentiment: "Figure it out on a rose that grows under the tree of a wilder-ness than a creature half so pretty as a Kentucky woman. She's prettier than an evening star in the shadow of a Summer sunset, more inspiring than a thousand songs, and sweeter than a thousand roses. She's our hope, our romance, our vine and fig tree—the light which enables men to see a million miles beyond the North Star."

Columbia Chapter Royal Arch Masons will meet next Friday night.

A number of traveling traders, commonly called Gypsies, passed through town last week.

Dr. E. L. Powell will be at the Presbyterian church, this place, Thursday night, November 2.

Lowie Bros., of Green county, will open a tin shop at this place, and will occupy a room over L. W. Bennett's store.

There will be an all day singing at Antioch Church the fifth Sunday, conducted by W. E. Stapp and others. Every body invited.

Calvin Gilmer, of color, charged with selling liquor in this county without license, was tried in the United States Court, Louisville, last week, and acquitted.

The Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance company will give entire satisfaction. It pays a larger dividend than any other company. It's business is honestly conducted. See J. E. Murrell.

Dr. Zach Taylor, a native of this county, a fine physician, who left Knob Lick for the Indian Territory two months ago, writes his relatives here that he is well pleased and has entered into a good practice.

Insure in The Farmers Home Insurance Company, of Junction City, Ky. The only company in the State that makes any claim of paying their losses in full.

An infant child of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Atkins died last Wednesday night. The child was about two months old. The death was made doubly sad, the father being in the State of Missouri, business having called him. When he left the little one was apparently in good health.

For Sale—A Bargain.

House and lot for $1500, one half cash, balance on easy terms. Call on Miss Lorena Pike, Columbia, Ky., or address ALLEN PIKE, care of P. F. Collier & Son, 711, Pine Street, St. Louis, Mo. 2.

Mr. W. F. Jeffries was one of the delegates to the State Development Convention. He reports that a large delegation was in attendance, and that there was much enthusiasm. It is generally believed that the convention will redound in good to the State.

Mr. C. H. Murrell was elected school trustee in West Columbia district without opposition. He was voted for in the interest of Mrs. Mary Harvey. Mr. J. D. Walker was elected in East Columbia, and it is our understanding that he was a candidate in the interest of Miss Fannie Smythe.

Mr. T. S. Scott, formerly a resident of Burksville and the editor of the Herald, published at that place, has been nominated by Republicans of Green and Taylor to represent said counties in the next General assembly. Mr. Scott became a citizen of Green county about three years ago.

For Sale.

A farm containing 216 acres of good land, lying three miles West of Columbia. This property is known as the W. J. Atkins farm. It produces well and there are upon it a good dwelling, good barn and all other necessary outbuildings. There is also much valuable timber. For further information, address G. A. Atkins, Columbia, Ky.

The dwelling house of Mrs. Priscilla Doherty, one and a half miles out of town, was consumed by fire last Thursday morning about 2 o'clock. Most of the household goods were saved. The building was comparatively new and was insured in the Farmers Home for $1000. It is said that Mrs. Doherty will either move to Columbia or rebuild on the old site.

Many citizens of Columbia will remember Shelby Taylor, a young man about twenty years of age, who spent the Summer of last year in this place, and who made a number of friends among the younger set. Last week he left Louisville, where he had been employed for some time, by the L. & N. R. Co., for Greensburg, Pa., to work in an oil field, and was killed by an explosion soon after his arrival. The parents of the deceased reside at Burksville, and at that place the remains were shipped.

The race for County Attorney in Russell will be an exciting contest. M. E. Tarter is the Republican candidate and Jas. N. Meadows is the Democratic aspirant. Meadows is a popular young man, a good lawyer and everything honorable will be done to secure his election. Should he be successful the interest of the county will be carefully guarded.

Jas. Garnett, Jr., W. A. Coffey, G. P. Smythe, Gordon Montgomery, J. P. Scruggs, E. G. Atkins, Horace Jeffries and J. E. Murrell are attending the Masonic Grand Lodge in Louisville this week. Mr. Sam Lewis will represent the Chapter here, Gordon Montgomery Columbia Lodge, No. 96, and E. G. Atkins the Council.

Dr. E. L. Powell, one of the most talented men in Kentucky, a resident of Louisville, will deliver a lecture at the Presbyterian Church, this city, Thursday night, November 2. This lecture will be given under the auspices of the M. & F. High School, and the proceeds will be used in furnishing the new boarding hall. No one should fail to hear Dr. Powell, as he is gifted, and his oratorical powers are unsurpassed.

Abijah Humphreys, an eccentric old man who lived near Inroad, this county, fell dead a few days ago. Ten years ago he lost his wife, and after the remains had been buried several days, he disinterred the body, removed it to a cave where perhaps it now rests. During Mr. Humphreys life time he visited the cavern daily, saying that his wife looked as natural as life.

Rev. and Mrs. W. T. Davenport have moved to their newly purchased home on East Main Cross street. For several years they have resided at Custer. Rev. Davenport at an early age entered the Methodist Ministry and has spent nearly half a century in the pulpit, where he has rendered much valuable service. They are excellent people, and we are glad to have them among us.—Elizabethtown News.

Valuable Home for Sale.

I will sell my house and lot at a bargain. It is one of the best dwellings in the town, a two-story frame, eight rooms with porches, plenty of good water, fresh and sulphur, and the lot contains 2 1/2 acres with plenty of fruit. The location is all that any one could desire.

G. W. ROBERTSON.

Last Monday was the opening of circuit court, Jamestown, and large number of people was in attendance. Judge Baker convened court in the forenoon, instructed the grand jury, and adjourned until yesterday morning, at which time the petit jury was summoned to appear. There is more business docketed than usual and the term will go into next week. There were several stock buyers on the square and a number of mules and horses changed hands. The merchants and hotels did a good business.

Notice.

All persons indebted to the estate of John W. Butler, deceased, either by note or account please come and settle without delay.

Strangled to Death.

"Last Friday morning on arriving at the office the first thing asked us was 'Have you heard about Sam Abill choking to death?'"

Investigation proved the news was true. It seems the boy was cutting up and having some fun with his mother and the children. Sam was naturally of a cheerful disposition and Friday morning he was full of play. In his romping he got hold of a towel fastened to a roller on the wall and by some hook or crook it got twisted around his neck and about this time his mother stepped out of the room, and on her return found the boy dead, the towel having been twisted around his throat in such a manner that he was helpless before found.

Sam was a bright boy and was always ready and willing to do whatever duties were assigned to him. He was truthful, and would always walk up like a little man and take a licking before he would tell a lie. No young man in this vicinity stood higher than he did. He was a member of the Ingersoll band and was a worker for its success.

Funeral services were held Saturday morning at the home of his parents and it was one of the largest ever assembled to pay tribute to a worthy young man. The band and friends followed the remains to the silent city of the dead where they were placed to await the call of the Master.

The family have the sympathy of a community in which they have lived so long and while nothing can return their boy to them it is a pleasure to know he died a Christian and had the love and respect of all who knew him.

Ingersoll Oklahoma Review. The deceased was a nephew of Eld. W. K. Abill, of this place. When the Christian College was opened here a number of years ago, his father was a student in the institution and made many friends during his stay in Columbia.

Sickles—Murrell.

Mr. Fred C. Sickles, of El Reno, and Miss Ruth Murrell, of Okeene, were married at the residence of the bride's parents at Okeene, Tuesday. The particulars of the wedding were not available, but nearly every one in Hinton knows both the bride and groom.

The bride was a daughter of W. W. Murrell, of Okeene, and is a sister to Mrs. L. R. Bidwell, and for a number of months was employed in Mr. Bidwell's store here, and during her stay made many friends by her agreeable manner and lady-like bearing.

Mr. Sickles was also employed here for several months as assistant cashier of the Hinton State Bank. He is a young man of excellent character and splendid business qualifications, and also has many friends in Hinton. He is the son of honorable Frank C. Sickles, the register of the U. S. Land Office at El Reno, and is himself very successful in business.

We wish the young couple abundant happiness and prosperity.—Hinton, Oklahoma Record.

How glad a man ought to feel when he knows that he is not in debt for the paper he reads, and how annoying must be his thoughts when he realizes that he is one of many who have trusted a publisher and give nothing but promises in return. How many who enjoy reading complimentary mentions of themselves and family but would want to wipe out the newspaper print if a cent were to be paid for it. How many a year? It is conceded that a town or section of country is generally measured by the character of its publications, but if the ledgers were thrown open to the public a different picture would appear. Remedy, pay and pay at once, and enjoy your paper and be happy.

COLUMBIA, KENTUCKY.

Saturday, Nov. 4th, at 2 O'clock P. M.

The following property will be sold to the highest and best bidder:

PICKETT TOBACCO WAREHOUSE, LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY.

To avoid chilly sensations later on, have your wood house filled at once.

If you are indebted to this office it is your privilege to pay on without further notice.

Large congregations are attending the revival services at the Christian church.

The Columbia Steam Laundry is now running in full blast—another feather in Columbia's business cap.

Dr. Cartwright hopes to have his new residence completed and ready for occupancy by the 15th of November.

Mr. H. C. Wolford has opened up a fine rock quarry near J. N. Murrell's farm, just above the mouth of Sulphur.

Mrs. Jennie Mollie McClain is having her dwelling raised another story. It will add greatly to the appearance of the building.

Mrs. Chas. Sutton presented this office with the largest bear we have seen this season. It weighed four and one quarter pounds and is twenty-four by twenty-six inches.

Mr. J. P. Hutchinson has let the contract for a two-story frame residence to Mr. H. C. Fosse. The location is just beyond Mr. B. F. Chewning's on Greensburg street.

New pupils are arriving daily for enrollment in our schools. There is not a town in the State near the size of Columbia that can boast of two such educational institutions.

The foundation for the new Livery stable is being laid, timber for the construction is being placed on the ground as rapidly as possible and in a short time we will have another well equipped livery in Columbia.

A meeting of the stock-holders of the Adair County Ginseng company has been called for to-day, (Wednesday) at its office in this town. Business to be transacted is of the utmost importance and a full attendance is desired.

The game of base ball at the Lindsay-Wilson Park Saturday afternoon between the M. and F. High School and the Lindsay-Wilson Training School was one of the best games played here this season. The score was eight to six in favor of the former team, ten innings being required to decide the contest.

We have agreed to receive wood from several in payment for subscriptions, and unless it is delivered in a few weeks other arrangements will be made as we intend to get in enough to run through the winter. Our cellar will hold all that is necessary. Bring it on if you have agreed to pay that way.

Another year, so far as making side walks in Columbia, has been swept from the calendar of time. Every desirable improvement can not be secured in a year but that of making good walks is one that has been too long delayed. Preparations ought to be made for another year's campaign. Remedy, pay and pay at once, and enjoy your paper and be happy.

Hiram Marcum, of Clinton county, was acquitted in the Federal court in Louisville last Saturday afternoon after a hearing of passing counterfeit money. Judge Evans said the evidence showed that Marcum did not know the money was not genuine. The case against Hogard York, charged with passing counterfeit money, was passed to the next term, an important witness being absent.

Mr. L. B. Hurt is having some trouble as well as considerable expense in trying for water on his new location on Boomer Heights. He does not fancy deep wells but had Pile & Patterson drill 88 feet before abandoning the first well. He said that he was led on to that depth, after passing 45 feet, by the remarks of friends who would tell of various successes obtained by pressing just a little farther from the point of give up. At any rate the second well is now being drilled and even if water is found at a moderate depth, yet it will be rather expensive when the entire outfit is footed up, but that is a chance every man must take who seeks well water.

Obituary.

On Friday morning, October 6, 1905, about 7 o'clock, the death angel visited the home of A. K. and Jennette L. Stone and claimed as its victim, their loving and beloved son, Jesse Allen. He was afflicted with typhoid fever. All the loving friends and medical skill could do was done, but to no avail. The Lord's will must be done.

Jesse was born November 4, 1886, died October 6, 1905, making his age 18 years, 11 months and 2 days. He numbered his friends by his acquaintances. Brother T. J. Campbell preached his funeral in the presence of a large audience of sorrowing friends and relatives, and his remains were laid to rest in the family burying ground. He leaves a father, mother, five sisters and one brother, and a host of friends and relatives to mourn his loss. May they trust in Jesus, who is able to save. Jesse was a young man highly respected by all who knew him. He was to have been married to a highly respected lady of Sparksville in a short time. Why the Lord called him from them so young we cannot tell, but he doeth all things well. May the Lord comfort the young lady in this hour of bereavement. To the loved ones we would say, live Christian lives, so when death comes, we may be prepared to spend eternity together in heaven. A FRIEND. Spectator please copy.

JOHN PAUL JONES.

Remains of the Founder of the American Navy Delivered to the United States.

THE OCCASION WAS VERY UNIQUE

The Ceremony Was One Combining Impressive Dignity With Brilliant Military and Naval Pomp.

In the Presence of High Dignitaries of France and Diplomatic Representatives of Foreign Nations
the Transfer Was Made.

Paris. —In the presence of the highest dignitaries of France, the diplomatic representatives of many foreign governments and civil and naval officials of the United States, the body of Adm. John Paul Jones was formally delivered to the United States government. The ceremony was one combining impressive dignity with brilliant military and naval pomp in which the soldiers and sailors of France and the sailors of America united in rendering honors to the illustrious founder of the American navy.

The occasion was unique and probably without parallel as the funeral was that of a revolutionary hero who had lain neglected for more than a hundred years.

Soldiers had an event awakened such widespread interest in the French capital. Dense throngs packed the Champs Elysees and other principal thoroughfares to witness the imposing cortege which for the elaborateness of its military feature equalled the martial display on the occasion of the visit of King Alfonso.

Casket Wrapped in American Flag.
The ceremony of delivering the body was held in the American church on the Avenue de l'Alma. The inner of this gothic edifice was beautifully decorated with plants and flowers. At the foot of the chancel rested the casket wrapped in an American flag and literally buried in masses of floral emblems. The French government had taken charge of the arrangements and cousiers of the foreign office, wearing impressive silver chains, acted as ushers. At the right of the altar sat Ambassador McCormick, Senior Special Ambassador Porter, Junior Special Ambassador Loomis, United States Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., Adm. Sigbee and other officers of the American squadron. Across the aisle sat, Premier Rouvier with other members of his cabinet, practically the entire diplomatic corps and officers of the army and navy. The members of the diplomatic corps were in full uniform.
Scores of American sailors in the naves on either side of the altar gave a fitting background to the imposing scene. After brief religious services Gen. Porter, wearing evening dress according to the French custom, with the red sash of the Grand Cross of the Legion of Honor across his breast, advanced alongside the casket and formally delivered the body to Mr. Loomis, as the representative of the United States government, who accepted it in the name of the government and commissioned Adm. Sigbee to transport it to the United States.

"My Country, 'Tis of Thee."
As the surplifted choir took up "My Country, 'Tis of Thee" the entire assemblage arose and joined in the strains of the patriotic hymn. Eight brawny sailors from the Brooklyn then stepped forward and raising the casket on their shoulders bore it slowly from the church to the waiting gun-carriage. There it was draped with the national colors and was drawn by six black horses.

Arriving at the Esplanade des Invalides, an imposing picture was presented. The French government had erected a large pavilion in which to deposit the coffin. The pavilion was richly hung with crimson velvet, with marined emblems and battle axes, entwined flags and a row of brass field pieces along the front. Nearly rose the gilded dome of the tomb of Napoleon.

The casket was deposited in the center of the pavilion while the cortege passed, rendering military honors. Later it was borne to the Invalides railroad station and placed in a funeral car, where, guarded by French and American sailors, it was started for Cherbourg.

RUSSIAN CRUISER LENA.
It is Denied That There is Trouble
Aboard the Warship.

Vallejo, Cal. —The officers of the Intermed Russian cruiser Lena deny the published stories that there is trouble aboard the warship. Some of the men wanted parties to return to their relatives in Russia, but their request could not be granted at the present time. The men have been denied shore leave during the present uncertain conditions in Russia. There are absolutely no weapons on the Lena.

Two Boys Drowned.
Pittsburg, Kan. —Harry Walker, aged 18 years, and Alex Worrell, aged 12, were drowned in the Youghiogheny river near McKeesport. The boys had gone to the river for a swim. Their bodies were recovered.

GREATEST SWINDLER HERE

Perpetrator of Frauds, Sojourning in America, Writes Story of His Life.

Berlin. —George Manolescu, who claims to be the world's greatest swindler, has published a remarkable autobiography.

He says he was born at Bucharest in 1871, and at the age of 15 ran away to sea. Even at that time he had an irresistible tendency to crime, and perpetrated many acute frauds in the Mediterranean ports, but arrived at Athens a year later destitute, and requested the Roumanian consul to send him home.

The consul refused, whereupon Manolescu attempted suicide in the consulate, and was conveyed to a hospital. The queen of Greece took an interest in him and visited his bedside until he recovered. Her majesty then paid his fare home.

Shortly before his eighteenth birthday Manolescu swindled his way to Paris and perpetrated so many successful frauds that he was able to purchase an expensive residence, race horses, and live in princely luxury.

He later was sentenced to the Paris to four years' imprisonment for "perpetrating frauds involving £40,000."

Leaving the prison at the age of 23, he assumed the title of Prince Lehovary and resumed a double career.
Outwardly he was a rich society man, moving in the best circles and living in extravagant style.

Secretly he was perpetrating frauds, committing burglaries, and enriching himself by crime. He married a woman belonging to the German aristocracy, and was a prominent figure at Monte Carlo, winning and losing thousands of pounds.

After a decade of successful swindling he was arrested at Berlin and imprisoned in a madhouse as a dangerous lunatic. He escaped, and after committing a series of burglaries in Berlin, Dresden, and other German towns, he finally escaped to America, where he is now living.

GRADUATE IN OLD CLOTHES

Unique Commencement Exercises of a Kansas Manual Training Institution.

Pittsburg, Kan. —A class of 21 students, 20 young women and one young man, graduated from the Kansas manual training normal school recently. The class of 1905 is the second class of graduates from this new institution.

The commencement exercises, which were held in the assembly hall of the normal school here, were novel and interesting. For the first time in the history of Kansas, a student graduated in blouse and knickerbockers, and the graduates, instead of delivering orations, gave public demonstrations of work in cookery and woodwork, as well as in mathematics.

On the platform had been equipped a wood turning lathe, fitted up with a motor, connected with the power cable.
A woodworking bench had also been placed on the platform, with a complete complement of woodworking tools. A cookery table had also been placed on the platform, where the cooking girls could demonstrate. The demonstration in class work was that of joinery by Miss Grace Evans, of Columbia, Mo. even making, by Miss Mora Bumann, of Litchfield, Ill.; wood turning, by Arthur Myers, of Weir City; cake baking, Misses Eleanor Henderson, of Port Scott, and Elizabeth Westley, of Great Bend.

At the close of the class song President J. N. Wilkinson, of the normal school of Emporia, delivered a short address to the class. Judge L. B. Kendall, of Emporia, secretary of the state board of regents, presented the diplomas to the members of the class.

GUNNER'S GREAT WORK.

All Naval Records Beaten by Man on Battleship Kentucky Who Hits Target Every Time.

Washington. —Thirteen hits out of 13 shots in one minute with a five-inch gun at a 1721 foot target, 1,600 yards, or almost a mile distant, is the marvelous record-breaking performance of one of the gunners on the battleship Kentucky in the practice maneuvers off Sandy Hook off Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans' fleet.

That the wonderful shooting was not merely luck upon the part of the gunner is shown by the fact that another gunner made 13 hits out of 14 shots. A trifle over four seconds for each shot was the time limit on all of the shooting. The wonderful effectiveness of this gunnery can be astonished from the utterance of Admiral Evans himself. He said: "If we had been firing at an enemy there wouldn't have been any enemy left in a half hour."

The performance has never been equalled in the American navy, and, so far as known, it is the best five-inch gun shooting ever accomplished in any navy in the world. The terrific execution of the Russians by the Japanese fleet was achieved through far less accurate work.

Merely Visiting at Columbus.

appears it is not considered good form to his whereabouts. As a general rule he'll be back again on his native heath

EXCURSIONS TO THE WEST

To the Pacific Coast—to California, Oregon, Washington—round-trip, long transit and return limits, liberal stop-over privileges.

The rate is practically on the basis of one fare for the round trip. Of course, if you wish to visit both California and Oregon or Washington, the cost is slightly more.

These reduced rates are in effect on certain dates in months of May to October, inclusive. They apply from all Eastern points via Chicago, St. Louis or Memphis gateways. The Rock Island System will take you up in either Chicago or St. Louis, or at hundreds of other Middle West points and carry you to the Coast in through Standard or Tourist Sleepers with unexcelled Dining Car service. The Rock Island also affords a choice of routes: on the "Scenic" route you can stop off in Colorado—see Salt Lake City—visit Yellowstone National Park; on the "Southern" route you can go via El Paso, thru New Mexico, then "up coast" to San Francisco and on to Portland or Seattle if desired.

In short, these Pacific Coast excursions offer an unusually good chance to see our western country in a comprehensive manner.

If you desire to go only as far as Colorado, there are excursion rates in effect to that station and return, all summer long, specially reduced June 30 to July 4, August 12 and 13, and August 30 to September 4. Extension trips to Ogden or Salt Lake and return at low cost also.

From September 15 to October 31, 1906, one-way tourist or "colonist" tickets will be on sale to California and the Pacific Northwest—about half regular fare.

If interested, send name and address on this coupon, designating which booklet wanted and to what point you plan to go. Name probable date of start also, so we can advise definitely with respect to rates, etc.

Use Your Brains.

Meet your problem with an effort of the mind.

Meet your difficulties, your disappointments with an effort of the will, which is a struggle of the brain.

Devote your energies to maintain mental alertness. Remember that that brain inside your skull contains all your hope for the future, all your possibilities of usefulness as well as pleasure, since there alone sensation and real activity exist.

Wise reading is important, for reading feeds the brain. But earnest concentrated thinking is infinitely more important, since thinking exercises the brain.

And as exercise and the quality of exercise are even more important to our bodies than food so thinking is a d exercise of the brain's faculties are infinitely more important than reading.

Use your brains to succeed, and above all use your brains to counteract the depressing and discouraging effects of failure.

Do not worry about the superior achievements of others. You have no cause for worry unless fails to bring you up to your highest possible degree of mental development.—M. A. S. a s a chusetts Ploughman.

Lost Hope Vanished.

When leading physicians said that W. M. Smith, of Peain, Ia., had incurable consumption, his last hope vanished; but (Dr. King's) New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, kept him out of his grave. He says: "This great specific completely cured me and saved my life. Since then, I have used it for over ten years, and consider it a marvelous throat and lung cure." Strictly scientific cure for Coughs, Sore Throats or Colds; sure preventive of Pneumonia. Guaranteed, 50c and $1.00 bottles at T. E. Paul's drug store. Trial bottle free.

Dairy Notes.

A little green corn fed to your cows now would enhance the flow of milk.

A poor cow will stand abuse, as it doesn't make much difference with her, but the highly bred, nervous dairy cow must have careful humane treatment.

Money invested in a first-class cow is a paying proposition. She man cost $150, but if worth the money, she will soon more than pay big interest on the investment.

A cow can be over fed and misfed. Cows have a large storage capacity for roughness. The kind of roughness being fed needs to be taken into consideration, when the concentrates are selected and fed.

Cows are much more apt to hold up their milk if they have a calf at milking time, than if milked without a calf. The most satisfactory way is to milk the cow without the calf. Raise the calf on skim milk.

Sickness in Sheep.

A sheep is peculiar in respect to its eating and retaining the brightness of the eye, while it is gradually being wasted by disease until it dies at the feed trough.

When a sheep loses flesh and becomes very thin without exhibiting any marked symptoms of disease, it is probable that it is suffering from tuberculosis of the intestines.

If the skin is pale and the eye unusually bright, this is still more probable.

If the eyes are yellowish and the skin a yellowish cast, the disease is in the liver.

If the dung is soft and of a fetid odor, the digestive organs are involved.

If the urine is thick or of an unusual appearance of odor, disease of the kidneys or liver may be suspected.

All these disorders may be accompanied by a loss of flesh and a gradual wasting.

The Divine Trustee.

Once there was a mine owner whose speciality was getting out coal by proxy and selling it by force. When asked why he insisted on squeezing the men who mined the coal and squeezing the people who had to buy it, this Mine Owner swelled up like a Pouter Pigeon and exclaimed:

"Away, you common man. Behold I am a Trustee of Divine Providence, appointed to administer just such affairs as these. Your impertinence must be duly punished, therefore the price of your coal is increased $1. on a ton."

When the employers of this Mine Owner, seeking relief from hard conditions, asked the employer for an eight day, he threw his hands aloft and rolled his eyes upward and until the whites looked like a sheet of white paper behind a couple of knot holes.

"Impossible!" he gasped. "That would mean a curtailment of production, and that would entail needless suffering and misery upon the poor who must have coal."

Having met with a curt refusal of the employees returned to the mines, but before they could make blast there came an order from the Mine Owner closing down the mine.

Why is it thus?" queried the employees.

"We are accumulating too large a stock, thereby, glutting the market, ruining prices and endangering profits," replied the Mine Owner.

Mule a Ho.

When Dr. W. B. Caldwell, the sage of Monticello, first prescribed his great remedy for indigestion, constipation and biliousness, now known as Dr. Caldwell's (Laxative) Syrup Pepsin, its success was so great that it made an instant hit. Since then it has been used all over the world and has never failed to duplicate its first successes. Try it. Sold by J. N. Page of Columbia, and R. B. Wilson, of Cave Valley 50c and $1.00. Money back if it fails.

The Lemon Cure.

From a correspondent to Home and Farm is taken the following, which is termed the lemon cure for consumption:

Put a dozen whole lemons in cold water and boil until soft, not too soft, roll and squeeze until all the juice is extracted, sweeten the juice enough to be palatable, and drink. Use as many as a dozen a day. Should they cause pain or looseness of the bowels, lessen the quantity, and use five or six until better, then begin and use a dozen again. By the time you have used five or six dozen you will begin to gain strength and appetite. Of course as you get better you need not use so many. Follow these directions and you will never regret it if there is any help for you. Only keep it up faithfully.

We know of two cases where both the patients were given up by physicians, and were in the last stages of consumption, yet both were cured by using lemons according to directions here stated. One lady in particular was bedridden and very low, had tried everything that a money could procure, but all in vain, when, to please a friend, she was persuaded to use them in February, and in April she weighed 140 pounds. She is a strong woman now and likely to live as long as any of us.

TO EDUCATE CHINESE

UNCLE SAM'S CASH WILL PAY FOR ORIENTAL STUDY.

"Celestial Kingdom" Intends to Use for Enlightenment Sum Due on Boxer Indemnity If United States Waives Claim.

Washington.—Hundreds of little Chinese boys may soon begin washing their round yellow faces every morning, brushing their low felt shoes and then racing down the street with their school books under their arms because of a promise President Roosevelt has just made. This promise is that he will recommend to congress in his next annual message that the United States government relinquish its claim to $22,000,000, the balance due on the indemnity for losses during the Boxer uprising. The United States, it is said, never intended to accept so large an indemnity.

At the end of the Boxer rebellion this country was anxious that the European nations should exact only moderate sums, which would not tax China beyond her power to pay. She did not want to see China weakened by taxation and left unable to develop her own national strength and resources. She was anxious, too, that China should not be obliged to pay her debts in territory.

In order to carry out this policy she had set herself, the United States fixed her own claim for the Boxer indemnity of $25,000,000. She then proposed to the European powers that they should all accept a reduction of their claims, the amount due the United States to be reduced at the same rate. This proposal the powers refused to listen to. Consequently the United States had to support her own claim of $25,000,000—which it is said was $22,000,000 more than the actual cost of transporting and maintaining troops, plus the damages to merchants and missionaries.

President Roosevelt has discussed the proposition of canceling the claim with the Chinese minister at Washington, and China herself has made a happy suggestion which helps to solve the difficulty. She has offered her own proposition to the cause of Chinese education, both in public schools and in providing to send capable students abroad, the amount which would have been paid the United States.

The progress which China has been making in education and other reforms leaves it practically certain that her promises will be carried out. The empress dowager has begun to see the advantages of western education, and is encouraging students to go abroad. She has set an example by ordering that the princes of the imperial house be prepared to go to the United States for their education. One will go to Japan, one to Europe and one to the United States.

HOBBO RESCUES YOUNG GIRL

Tramp Stops Runaway Horse and Saves Young Woman from Peril —Asks Kiss and Gets It.

Philadelphia.—A kiss was the reward demanded by a tramp who rescued Miss Blanche Farley, a pretty young member of the British Country club, one of Philadelphia's most exclusive suburban organizations, when her horse became unmanageable on the way to her home in Rockland street, near Twentieth.

She was just preparing to jump when a man, shabbily dressed, a typical hobo, stepped out of the woods on one side of the road.

He grasped the bridle and brought the animal to a sudden standstill. Miss Farley was unable to say a word, and noticing the man's condition produced her purse.

To her surprise the hobo appeared to fidget. "No, thanks, lady, I don't want money. Yours is the first woman's face I've seen in two weeks. I've been frightening from the west. You remind me of some one I knew out there. May I kiss you?" Miss Farley was surprised and hesitated. Finally she acquiesced and held up her lips.

SELLS ALL RIGHTS FOR $1

Wife in Des Moines Agrees to Unusual Prenuptial Contract—Waves All Claim.

Des Moines, Ia.—That wives may be had for one dollar apiece has just been proved by an unusual prenuptial contract filed with the county recorder. Upon the payment of one dollar, receipt of which is acknowledged, Irene Easter, an amiable Des Moines woman, has waived all claim to property or alimony and has become the wife of Herbert B. Ridgley, a retail house-furnishing merchant of this city. The contract recites: "In consideration of the intended marriage and of the consideration of one dollar, duly paid, such sum is to be accepted in full settlement of all money matters, temporary alimony or permanent alimony, and she agrees to execute a quitclaim deed to all her rights to property upon demand."

A cold wave struck us Wednesday, unusually late for the season, and fires—huge ones—were a necessity in its wake. The following morning the first touch of frost came along, nipping the vegetation to a considerable extent.

Rodgers & Baker have recently sunk two wells near here, one at R. G. Price's and the other at Elzy Ewing's, of color, striking good flows of water at the depth of 50 feet each. At the latter place, strange as it may seem, there was plenty of good water for the first few days then it went dry.

COBURG.

It has been so long since I have seen a letter from this part of the country, I am afraid the readers of the Adair County News have forgotten there is such a place as Coburg, the place our Caney Fork correspondent gave an account of some time since.

By the way, what has become of the Caney Fork correspondent? I looked for his obituary several months ago, but he revived, came again with a good, long letter, giving us great hopes of his future. But he is considerably in the background now, I feel anxious about him. Well I guess he is counting the business houses of this place, so he can tell how the town is progressing.

Since my last letter the business of Coburg has been increased, but an electric plant has not yet been installed, neither have we water put in water works.

This community is hospitable, and in order that my statement may be verified friends are invited to call.

The marble game, now on, is exciting, and I will close.

YOSEMITE.

R. M. Sharp and Quince Jones have been on the sick list, but both are better at this writing.

There seems to be but little interest manifested in the election which is close at hand. Candidates are giving these parts a wide birth.

Mrs. Rev. H. M. Shouse has organized a children's meeting at the Baptist church, which she is making quite interesting to the little folks.

Mrs. T. S. Benson has on exhibition a pumpkin she raised in her garden that tips the beam at 81 pounds. It is a great curiosity even to old pumpkin raisers.

Rufus Taylor, who was fined in the Justices court here last May, went to Liberty Tuesday, and delivered himself to Jailor Brown. He told us, as he went down, that he had had sickness in his family and had been unable to make the money to pay the fine, and had concluded to go to jail to pay it.

Joseph Williams is at home after an absence of more than 15 years. He has been in the service of the U. S. most of the time during his absence and has done service in Porto Rico, Cuba and the Philippine Islands. Consequently he has seen much of the world. He is a pleasant conversationalist and takes great pleasure in telling you of what he has seen. Mr. Williams is son of Capt. A. B. Williams and his return home has brought real joy and gladness to his aged father.

I am writing this letter merely to show you that I have not altogether forgotten the News. I have hailed every one I met for a week, with the hope of obtaining something for publication. With only the result of picking up as you see a few personals. The task of getting up a letter for publication at a "burg" like this is more difficult than some seem to think.
